	Do They Know It's Christmas?
Mercury CD : 9869413
Producer:	Nigel Godrich
Composer:	Bob Geldof/Midge Ure
Publisher:	Warner Chappell
Line-up:	Chris Martin, Dido, Bobo, Sugababes, and lots more...
Charted last week on leaks at #144. Already #5 in the year-to-date chart, selling nearly 300,000 copies. Still a far cry from the original Band Aid, which sold 750,000 in its first week, but better than Band Aid II which sold just under 200,000 in its first week.

Jonathan's Top Twenty Commentary

The bookies were taking no bets on this week's No 1 single, so certain was the outcome: Band Aid 20 land 'Do They Know It's Christmas' at the top to complete an hat trick of No 1's for the song, 20 years to the week after the original Band Aid and 1 week shy of 15 years after Band Aid II. Sales of 292,000, whilst already outselling all but 4 of this year's singles in just 7 days, might be viewed as slightly disappointing. In total, this now makes 9 weeks at No 1 and 13 weeks in the Top20 for the ultimate charity song on which only 5 of the artists have appeared on more than 1 of the songs: Bananarama on the first 2 and Bob Geldof, Midge Ure, Bono and Paul McCartney on the 1st and the 3rd. 'Do They Know It's Christmas' is the second biggest selling song in UK chart history but it needs to turn over more than another 1 million units to catch 'Candle In The Wind', which is doubtful. It may also struggle to be No 1 at Christmas... The 997th No 1.

'Unchained Melody' leads the all-time singles sales by song, combining all 6 versions which have made the Top20 since 1955. The track is alone in having topped the charts in 4 different versions, for Jimmy Young, the Righteous Brother, Robson and Jerome and Gareth Gates; if we assume the Band Aid song is 3 different versions, they now join 'Spirit In The Sky' and 'With A Little Help From My Friends' in topping the singles chart by 3 separate acts. If the assumption is the opposite, then Band Aid makes history as the only act to take the same song to the top on 3 different occasions.

Ice Cube has been having hits since 1993, a lot of them, but none have reached the Top20 in either the singles or the albums - until now. He debuts at No 2 with 'You Can Do It' and one of the original U.S. rappers might be considered unlucky were it not for hunger in the Sudan.

Green Day cannot quite match their biggest hit from earlier this year, No 3 for 'American Idiot' but they still manage their 2nd biggest in 7 Top20 entries, 'Boulevard Of Broken Dreams' checking in at No 5 this week. Their album is in its 11th week in the Top20 and has a shot at finishing in the year's Top20 albums.

Natasha Bedingfield's 3rd and least successful single alights at No 6, following Nos 3 and 1 respectively, the title track from 'Unwritten' does, however, keep the album just inside the Top20 for a 12th week as it scrambles to finish inside the Top30 for the year. If 'Unwritten' had been released as her debut instead of 'Single', it could have been No 1, being a quality song, but the 3rd track from a 3-month old album rarely reaches No 1. The lady is, however, the 12th best-selling singles artist for the year and 16th in combined single and album sales.

The Babyshambles appear to be a debut act but they are Pete Doherty's new band, following his public departure from the Libertines and his other activities including burglary, drug addition and time spent courtesy of Her Majesty. 'Killamangiro' is new at No 8.

Like Ice Cube, Snoop Dogg is a veteran funk-rapper who also started chart life in 1993. Calvin Broadus has managed 4 hits and 4 Top20 weeks as the headline artist heretofore and another 4 hits with the likes of 2Pac and Dr Dre, with a solo high of No 12 but he goes 2 better this week: a 1st visit to the Top10 with 'Drop It Like It's Hot' with some help from Pharrell.

The final new entry creeps in at No 20 for Razorlight who lift their 3rd track from 'Up All Night' this year; 'Golden Touch' had a week at No 9, 'Vice' a week at No 18 and now 'Rip It Up' a week at No 20. The album actually fell this week, indicating that that particular barrel has been scraped.

Over on the albums, U2 become the 9th act this year to remain at the top for a second week - only Katie Melua has managed 3 consecutive weeks (6 in total) and Keane have enjoyed 4 in total. The 4 albums below U2 shuffle around and then Girls Aloud's 2nd album 'What Will The Neighbours Say?' arrives at No 5 following 'Sound Of The Underground's' No 2 appearance in June 2003, which spent just 3 weeks in the Top20.

'Dedicated', Lemar's 2003 debut album reached No 16 for 2 weeks in January. 'Time To Grow' does much better, new at No 7 this week. That's the 2 new entries.

Elsewhere, Busted return after 2 absent weeks with 'Live - A Ticket For Everyone' at No 13, two places below their peak and Maroon 5 climb back into the Top10 for a 29th week in the Top20 with 'Songs About Jane' as they wrestle 2nd place from Anastacia in combined single and album sales for 2004 - but a long way behind Usher, whose crown is safe.

History Corner

The Top20 Best-Selling Albums Artists of the 1970's:

1	Simon and Garfunkel	1972
2	Paul McCartney
3	Rod Stewart
4	Abba	1976, 1977
5	Elton John
6	David Bowie	1973
7	Carpenters	1974
8	Andy Williams	1971
9	Led Zeppelin	1970
10	Mike Oldfield
11	Pink Floyd
12	Beatles
13	Rolling Stones
14	Perry Como
15	Slade
16	Bay City Rollers	1975
17	Deep Purple
18	T Rex
19	Cat Stevens
20	Electric Light Orchestra

Just as the Beatles were runaway winners in the 1960's, so were Simon and Garfunkel in the 1970's: only the 6 acts below them managed to sell more than half their total and they managed to sell half as much again as Paul McCartney. Some 80% of Simon and Garfunkel's historical album sales came in the 1970's and it was sufficient to lodge them comfortably inside the all-time best-selling albums artists Top10. Sir Paul, Rocket Rod and Abba are very close to each other then there's a gap to the next 3, who are also close.

The best selling albums 'act' from 1978 was the Soundtrack from 'Saturday Night Fever', No 45 for the decade, only the 3rd time that all artists were eclipsed in a calendar year by a recording from stage, show or film after 'South Pacific' managed it twice in 1959 and 1960; it has not happened again. Blondie were the winners from 1979 and they are at No 28.

Two acts on this list were also on the 1960's ranking, unsurprisingly, the Beatles and the Rolling Stones. There is also an act from the 1950's list, who was totally absent from the 1960's, not charting even for 1 week; he came back strongly in the 1970's, helped by 1 huge seller (see next week) and that was Perry Como.

Astonishingly, Simon and Garfunkel, the most successful duo in chart history, only released 2 albums in the 1970's but the 2 stayed in the Top20 for a combined total of 346 weeks or nearly 7 years - and one of them did not even top the charts! Three of their albums from the 1960's did re-enter fleetingly in 1970. By contrast, Paul McCartney had 11 Top20 albums in the 1970's of which 3 reached No 1. Rod Stewart also had 11 entries, 7 reaching No 1, with Abba hitting the top with 5 of their 6 Top20 albums.

There were 494 different acts, soundtracks or compilation albums which made the Top20 albums in the 1970's, almost 1 for each week, compared to 332 in the 1960's. Seven acts had a flickering moment of glory with 1 week at No 20 during the decade: Boz Scaggs, Captain Beefheart, Edward Woodward, Humble Pie, Johnny Winter, Little Jimmy Osmond and the Mahavishnu Orchestra.
